HERE are some striking expressions from the speech made by Representative Bertrand H. Snell of New York, permanent chairman of the Republican national convention:

Victory has come to the Republican party because victory has

We have never become a disorganized mob under the pres sure of great emergencies.

The nation has been safe when the Republican party has been in control of the Government.

Everywhere, outside of the Republican party, is confusion

The Democratic party is fatally weak because it does not con mand the support or confidence of the nation and because it is utterly lacking in team work.

The Democrats have a minority complex which they cannot change. As a fault-finding, cavilling minority opposition they are 100 per cent perfect. As a driving, constructive majority they are a 100 per cent failure.

With this record behind it in this grave hour of national distress, the Democratic party is about to ask the country to accept a candidate whose identity is still unknown, standing upon a platform whose plans will probably contradict themselves.

The Democratic party is a mob of feuds and of factions un able to bring order out of the chaos in its own ranks.

My countrymen, the solidiarity of the Republican party in this crisis means the salvation of the United States.

Action in the Senate. Creation of a standing committee on veterans' affairs was blocked in the Senate today for the second time this week as members ex-hausted in debate the time allotted for consideration of the question.

Before laying the resolution aside the Senate agreed to an amend-ment by Senator Vandenberg (Rep.), Michigan, to postpone creession if the resolution is adopted and an amendment by Ashuret (Dem.), Arizona, increasing the membership from 13 to 15.

Advocates were urging immediate creation, apparently, so the bonus bill, when it comes from the House, could be taken up by the new committee instead of going to the Finance Committee, where a cold reception is expected.

Meanwhile, in the Senate an adninistration leader, Reed of Pennsylvania, asserted that "as long as I am in the Senate I am going to fight bonuses to men who incurred

"We have been generous almost to the point of absurdity," he said, "in order that there might not be "No nation in history was ever so generous to its war veterans." Meanwhile, the encamped war veterans had suffered misfortune. At midnight the temporary hospital set up by Marine Corps medical of-ficers at a reserve headquarters was closed. The officers said they had been swamped in trying to care for the sick bonus seekers and had received no co-operation from Federal and district health authorities.

The closing was marked by an angry exchange between Police Superintendent Glassford and a Veterans' Bureau doctor when Glassans, seriously ill, had not been transferred to a hospital hours after they had been taken to the receiving station. Red with anger, the police head told the doctor he was not "doing a good job." Soon after the men were taken to Walter

Board of Education Will Be Acted On at July Meeting.

The first step was taken by the Board of Education last night to eliminate the junior college departments of the two teachers' colleges. The saving is estimated at $75,000

Emil J. Barth introduced an amendment to the board's rules to strike out those giving authority for the operation of the general junior college departments. Under the rules, the amendment must lie over until the July meeting. The Real Estate Exchange this spring advecated abolition of the teachers' col-leges altogether, to save $273,000.

but the board refused to do this.

Harris Teachers' College, for white students, has had 416 boys and girls in the two-year junior college course and about 400 girls in the four-year teacher training course. Stowe Teachers' College, for Negroes, has had 260 boys and girls in the junior department and 265 girls training as teachers. An even larger junior college enrollment next autumn had been anticipated in both institutions. The junior, departments were opened Jan. 27, 1930, on recommendation of Superintendent of Instruction

The board approved another amendment to the rules, shortening the term of the open air schools, which are used to prevent tuberculosis. They have been in session the year around, but during the general school vaction this year they will operate for only five weeks, starting next Monday, as an economy measure. The same five-week period will be provided in other special schools for handi-capped children. In all there will be eight schools with an all-day summer session and nine with a half-day.

Teachers Volunteer Services. Superintendent Gerling announced an arrangement to provide for normal pupils, in view of the ion of general summe school. For boys and girls about to finish either the eighth grade or high school, who need to make up only one subject in order to qualify, classes will be conducted, free of charge, at the board's headquarters, 911 Locust street. Several teachers and assistant superintendents have volunteered to act as tutors and directors. Forty-eight white and four Negro high school students have asked to be enrolled but apparently the number of grade school students will be smaller. In some instances there will be only one pupil to a teacher.

Six of the portable buildings used for the Woerner School, the new building for which will be ready in September, were assigned to McKinley High School, which was reopened as a high school last January, but is becoming overcrowded. Three of the frame units will go to relieve overcrowding at the Columbia School. Three steel portables will be offered for sale. Another reflection of the congestion in the high schools was an order made, permitting the use of Blewett Intermediate School, a ninth grade institution, for classes of higher grades.

Negroes to Use Glasgow School.
Superintendent Gerling notified the board he planned to use the Glasgow School, 1415 North Garrison avenue, for Negroes, beginning in September. He said the number of white children in the district was progressively dimin-ishing and the Negro population increasing.

The board, on recommendation of Building Commissioner Friton, decided to wreck the vacant Grand Plaza Hotel, 914-920 North Grand boulevard, facing Vandeventer place. The property was bought several years ago as a site for a new school headquarters there. Friton said the hotel could not be rented favorably, but that the lot might be used for parking autor might be used for parking automo-biles. The lowest of seven bids for wrecking was $35 from the Murphy Wrecking Co., which will salvage material. The highest was $4600.

Temporary use of a vacant store at Ninth and Locust streets was granted Welcome Inn by the board for an office for promotion of a rodeo at The Arena.

The board granted a request of Clifton Heights Post, American Legion, for the use of land adjoining Wade School for a carnival from June 27 to July 2, and an application by the paster of Male from June 27 to July 2, and an application by the paster of Holy Innocents Catholic Church for use of board property at Kingshighway and Arsenal for a bazaar on Aug. 20 and 27. The requests were at first rejected, but on motion of Ben Weldle, the board reconsidered after debate.

Auxiliary annual supply contracts for about $75,000 were approved by the board.

Gov. Caulfield for Police Pay Cut, CHICAGO, June 14.-Gov. Caulfield, attending the Republican National Convention, today announced that he did not think St. Louis policemen should be forced to contribute to charity.

"I was surprised to read in the Post-Dispatch a statement by Chief Gerk that the suggestion met with my approval," the Governor said. "It came up at my conference with the members of the old board, Chief Gerk being present. My position was that I believed there should be a reduction in police salaries. I did not believe policemen should be forced to contribute to charity. I took the position that the salary, whatever it was, belonged to the policeman and that the board had no right to attempt to exercise con-

IN HOLDUP KILLING

were put on the stand today at Copeland's trial on a first-degree murder charge in the case.

Pelice Captain William Tierney of the Dayton Street Station, who was in Davis' store at the time of the killing and would have been the State's principal witness, has since died, and the State is relying largely on the confession and statements attributed to Copeland, Capt. Albert Wetzel, formerly of the Laclede Avenue Station and now in the Detective Bureau, testi-fied Capt. Tierney questioned Copeland at the Laclede Avenue Station and elicited a detailed account of the holdup. Capt. Wetzel said Copeland identified Capt. Tierney as the man with whom he scuffled in the store and who struck him on the head.

Max Davis, brother of Jacob J. Davis, said he heard Copeland tell police how he and two other Negroes, one an employe of the store planned the robbery and how the employe waited outside during the holdup. Copeland, according to Davis, said he had tried to fire his revolver at Capt. Tierney three times during the struggle, but each time the cartridge failed to ex-

UNDERTAKERS STILL OPERATING IN VIOLATION OF ZONING LAW

Issued.
Wagoner-Cotrell, undertakers at the southwest corner of Lafayette avenue and Nicholson place, whose attempt to legalize their establish ment under the zoning law failed recently, have been continuing to operate, according to Building Commission Aggerter. Building Inspector Fred Friedewald visited the nortuary yesterday. He reported it was in use and that he served personal notice that it was violating the zoning law.

Assistant City Counselor Pohl man, assigned to the Building Department, announced he would issue a police court summons for the firm within a day or two if the place was not closed. He notified the firm last Wednesday by mail that it was violating the code.

The mortuary was opened last January in an old residence, in a residential zone. When attention was called to its presence a spot zoning amendment was passed to legalize it, but just before this would have become effective last month it was repealed. The repeal followed disclosure that the under-takers expected to pay $750 to Robert J. Kratky, Republican politician, for appearing as attorney before Mayor Miller in behalf of the spot soning amendment.

Most important improvement in sanitary protection since the invention of Kotex Itself In 1920.

AT LAST! A radically new design in sanitary protection. You are scarcely aware that you have it on. Made, of course, by Kotex -originators of the modern sanitary napkin.

It is called PHANTOM * KOTEX. Why? Because the ends are so flattened and tapered that it leaves no outlines even under the closest-fitting of gowns. Not the slightest bulk suggested even under the filmiest of summer silks. And—for those who sequire extra protection — Super-Phantom Kotex is ideal. There's extra protective surface but the ends are so skilfully flattened as to be completely

Kotex features retained

The special Kotex features you have always appreciated are retained, of course. It is soft of after hours of use; wonderfully absorbent; treated to deodorize; can be worn, with equal protection, on either side; disposable, easily. More than 24 million pads were used in

More than 24 million pads were used in hospitals alone last year.

Insist upon getting genuine Kotex, when you buy it already wrapped. Each tapered end of the new pad is stamped "Kotex" now—so you can't get inferior substitutes.

Kotex prices are today the lowest in Kotex history. This new improvement comes to you at no increase in price. All dealers have the new PHANTOM KOTEX.

A T the Cardinals office today it was stated that no word had been received from Dean. Vice President Branch Rickey view Dean's escapade leniently.

"We are not worrying about Dean and are not going to do anything drastic about his case," he said. We realize that he has an unusual personality, and will not suspend him, provided he is prepared to rejoin the club in a couple of days."

Rickey stated that there were developments to the affair that he could not make public which altered his first judgment of the situation. Rickey added.

"As to Dean's charges that his wife did not receive the money requested or that she was not treated courteously, they are of course unfounded. Mrs. Dean received the club's check for $100. At the time she received the money she declared that she had written Dizzy a letter which, she said, would bring him home on the run, but declined to explain what she meant by that."

STEPENFETCHIT IS MADE FAVORITE FOR THE AMERICAN DERBY RACING

the Associated Press. CHICAGO, June 18.—Mrs. J. H.

Whitney's Stepenfetchit today had succeeded to the position of favorite for the American Derby, Washington Park's $50,000 classic which will be decided Saturday.

The Whitney star arrived late yesterday just in time to be installed as the early public choice for J. H. Loucheim's Economic, favorite since the withdrawal of Burgoo King, had joined the list of thoroughbreds removed from con-sideration by injuries.

Economic developed lameness in his left foreleg after going through a workout, and it was not believed that he will be in shape to go after the big purse. Ill fortune al-leady had eliminated Top Flight and Evening, both considered powerful contenders.

The loss of Economic reduce ible field to 15 and unless more bad luck overtakes the event that many may start, Walter M. Jefford's Boatswain had plenty of support, and William Woodward's Faireno ranked as a strong conten-

It was pointed out to Dean that suspension and the loss of his sal-ary would be the inevitable pun-he was asked also why he had ed it unfair. "I know I'll be suspended," he replied, "and I ain't kicking about this year's contract. They paid off debts amounting to $4000 for me so that I really got $7000 for this eason. So I'm not kicking about that. But how about that $700? Why haven't they given that mon-Dean admitted freely that he had made occasional mistakes, and that ecause of his difficulty in budgeting himself, the club had arranged to pay him twice a month through-out the calendar year. Most other ball players, as is known, receive ball season; but under that arrangement Dizzy found himself living like a prince from April to October, only to be out of paper money from October until April. Also to discourage his boyish dency to buy anything that he happened to see in any store window from silk shirts to motor boats, he was persuaded to bank his money in a savings account, so that he could not write checks whenever he had the urge. Dean admitted that he didn't want to quit baseball. "But I can make more money is semi-pro up at Altor., Ill., than I can with this here organization," he declared. "I can pack 'em every around and he embarrassed every time I want a pack of cigarettes or a couple of Collars." Visited Street

Before departing for the railroad station last night, Dean visited Manager Street's room and talked over his troubles, the Cardinal leader disclosed. Dea explained that he thought he was underpaid and Street pointed out that while he had done well in the minors he

WRESTLING RESULTS

A Times several stuggers have A made gestures as though to crowd Habe Ruth off the home run hitting throne. From time to time, this or that hitter has tied and even surpassed Babe in grand total for the season.

Thus far the Gehrigs, the Wilson

Thus far the Genrigs, the Kleins and the Hack Wilsons have risen and fallen by turns; but the Hambine has gone on steadily, performing at or near his record clip year by year.

This season a new challenger has came up to look Babe in the eye and pass ahead of him—Jimmy Foxx, who is here with the Athletics. Jimmy this morning had a total of 25 homers in 56 games. If he maintains this pace for the entire season he will establish the world's record of 67 home runs.

Probably Foxx will not be able to keep up this terrific pace for the season. His past record indi-cates he will not carry on in subsequent years. He can not hope to rival the amasing record of Ruth, who led the American League in home runs in 1918. 1919, 1920, 1921, 1923, 1924, 1926, 1927, 1928, 1929, 1930 and tied for it in 1931. He still leads the world with a total of 60, scored

Wrench in the Machinery. DAY by day in every way the Cardinals are finding out that it's possible to get rid of too many stars. To the host of players lopped off the Cardinal main stem since last world series, must now be added (temporarily we hope) Dizzy Dean, a pitcher

Dizzy's departure from the club is just another eccentricity; but coming at this time it may prove postly unless he is restored to the team quickly. The pitching staff is in none too good shape to sustain a pennant drive and can ill afford to be without one of its starting aces during its campaign abroad. With Adams out, Frisch still limping, Reese recently hurt, Bottomley out of the lineup and still other kinks in the Cardinal makeup, the loss of a first line regular might put the team out of the running.

As to Dean, the club should not judge him too harshly. He's born that way and his complex can't be altogether suppressed. Like a boy deprived of his supper, he's pouting about it. It will

When Pitchers Pitched.

M AJOR league pitchers have considerably tamed, compared with three years age. But to judge by the figures, the flingers of this day are still far from the efficiency nitching standards of 15 years The "rabbit" has been amou tated from the official baseball and the long list of .300 hitters is first under the de-rabbited base-The earned-run average, which best reflects pitching merit, shows that the 1932 National League pitchers were mere be-ginners beside those of 1916. In 1932 Bill Walker of the Giants led the league with 2.26 average runs earned against him.

There were only four pitchers able to hold opponents to an average under three runs. In 1916 the leading efficiency pitcher was Schupp of the Giants with a record average of less green 4965.

The Honeymoon Hawks defeated the Drones, 14 to S, behind the good pitching of Art Roy. For games with the winners write Ivan Buelt, 4279 Margaretta avanua.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The special Democratic unemployment relief committee of the Senate today decided to stand firm behind its proposal for a $500,000,000 public works bond issue, to which President Hoover is opposed.

The committee met to consider proposals for eliminating the controversial bond issue feature of their $2,000,0000,000 program, in order to expedite its consideration but decided not to compromise.

The group decided to ask the Senate to take the bill up tomorrow or Friday. It is expected that at that time an amendment will be offered by administration Senators to strike the bond issue section from the bill.

THE UNOFFICIAL DELEGATE AT CHICAGO.

The Keynote Speech

By Waher Lippmann.

N THE production of his speech, Senator Dickinson was obviously determined that he would at all costs sound a triumphant keynote. This compelled him to smit all reference to the two-car garage and all explanations as to why after 11 years of Re-publican rule, "our nation is in the midst of its most perilous economic crists." The Senator just jumped right into the midst of the crisis, and then devoted his energies to asserting that every act of Mr. Hoover's has been superb.

The historians admit that even Abraham Lincoln made a few mistakes, but if the Senator's story is to be believed, Herbert Hoover has been invincibly right from start to finish. Such infallibility has not previously been known on earth, and when Mr. Hoover has this speech called to his attention by one of his secretaries, he will fee either that the speech is nonsense or that the office of President of the United States is a paltry thing for one who has such cosmic genius.

A good sample of the quality of this speech is to be had by looking at what this official spokesman for the Republican party had to say on a subject still being debate relieving unemployment. Discussing the early days of the depression, Senator Dickin-son pointed with pride to the fact that patriotically co-operated by increasing ap-propriations for public improvements of all character and by making available addition-al sums for road building," and that "the President enlisted the co-operation of the states and their subdivisions in extending and speeding up their programs of public construction, including highway improvements." All of this spending was done under Republican auspices. The Senator acclaimed it as a great achievement.

But about 15 minutes later he reached that section of his speech where he had to denounce the Democrats, and there he pointed with horror to the Democrats who "preposed millions in bond issues for un-necessary and unproductive public works." When the Republicans spent money in 1932, "upwards of a million persons, who would otherwise have been idle, were given gainful employment." When the Democrats pro-posed to spend money in 1932, they were acting on the theory that you can "squander yourself into prosperity."

This is not an intellectually honest performance. If nothing were involved ex-cept Senator Dickinson's personal reputa-tion, it would not greatly matter. But, of course, this speech was approved, if not by the President himself, then certainly by someone who has authority to represent him, And when that fact is realised, it suddenly is brought home to one that this keynote address is a reversion to the crudest kind of partisanship and a deliberate, reckless abandonment of any pretense that the administration desires national co-operation in dealing with the crisis. I cite the two quotations about public works as mere illustration. The address from start to finish is based on the as-sumption that the Democrats contributed almost nothing to the relief program and that or desired. Looked at from this point of view, the Senator's speech is not the mere routine campaign buncombe to which the nation is so cynically accustomed, but a grave supture of that precarious national unity upon which our safety may for many more difficult months continue to depend.

It is hard to understand how Mr. Hoover dared to permit his spekesman to forget so completely the interests of the nation and to make such an unpatriotic speech. For after this speech, so jealous and so grasp-ing, the Democrats who have been coperating with the President would be more than human if they did not feel that Herbert Hoover was a rather difficult man to cooperate with.

To have remembered that the national unity has been, is, and will for some time continue to be, of supreme importance in a program of rellet and recovery and rein, the authors of this address construction, the authors of this address would have had to possess vision and mag-nanimity. They had neither. There is not one syllable in it to indicate that they recognise that the misery of today is the result of the mistakes of yesterday. There is not one syllable which indicates an interest in a lable which is concerned with anything except the assertion of the infallibility of Herbert Hööver.

That in the last analysis is what made the speech sound so foolish and so dull. For people listen eagerly to anything which threws light upon their fate and the fate of the nation. But at this particular moment nobody is interested in the effort to re-construct a superman. For everybody knows that there have not been any super-men in this troubled expension of men in this troubled generation, and when orators and publicity experts try to create one, they create much beredom, punetu (Confrient 1985.)

experts in each instance have been able only to temporize. And thus, 13 years after the signing of the treaty of peace, the problem of reparations remains unsettled.

The Hoover moratorium will end July 1, and unless action has been taken by the Powers, the whole weight of reparations again will be thrown upon Germany. Already the Government of the Reich has declared that it cannot resume payment; in that case, the moratorium provisions of the Young plan must be invoked or the reparations agreement broken. In the latter event, the consequences would be so serious that the Allied nations would, in their own interests, have to consider the extension of the Heover moratorium or the revision of the Young plan. These are the facts which the experts in each instance have been able only

Since the signing of the Treaty of Versailles, the history of reparations has been one of diminishing claims upon Germany. The original demand that Germany should shoulder the enormous cost of the war has been gradually modified before merciless economic forces that have little respect for nationalistic prejudices.

Nevertheless, war psychology has persisted in preventing any rational settlement of the question. Two groups of experts have sought a disinterested and objective solution. In each instance scientific examination failed; the experts were compelled to adopt a political course and to steef somewhere between the stern demands of the French and the minimum relief necessary to save and the minimum relief necessary to save Germany from ruin. Dr. France, Only Other Candi date, Sure the President Won't Be Renominated.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON, A Staff Correspondent of the Post Dispatch.

CHICAGO, June 15 .- "You may be perfectly sure of one thing-

Hoover will not be nominated.
We've got him stopped."
This rather startling statement came from Dr. Joseph L. France, of Maryland, the President's sole opponent for the Republican nomination. I found him eating dinner with his constraints. with his secretary last night, in the doctor's combination headquarters and living quarters in the Congress Hotel. They were alone.

A placard over the door gave this "Total number of delegates instructed or advised for France-231; for Hoover-19."

Dr. France, a large, full-faced, well-fleshed man with ruddy cheeks and gold-rimmed spectacles, was wearing a linen suit and eating a strawberry sundae for desert. Asked why he was so confident today's session could see that. Why, when his name was mentioned, they looked around to be sure whether it was proper for them to cheer. Outside of the Federal jobholders there aren't 10 delegates who want to renominate him. How can a man like that 'win' "?

"Hoover Never a Party Man."

The writer mentioned the renom-ination of Taft in 1912, but Dr. France replied:

"That was different. Taft was an old line organization politician with a long record of service for and fidelity to the party. He was 'one of the boys.'

'On the other hand, Hoover never was a party man, never belonged to the organization. He was an associate of Woodrow Wilson. He has no deep-seated strength. "Furthermore," observe the doctor with a spread smile, "why should the party want to repeat the experience of Taft in 1912? No, sir, I've seen many a convention stampede toward the pie counter, but never one away from it. They want to win, and they know they can't 'win with Hoo-

All this sounded rather convinc ing to one who is not a politician, but the writer could not brush away the fact that the renomination of the President had been uni versally conceded—except by Dr. France. What figures could be advanced in support of the claim that Hoover would not be nominated? The doctor produced a chart which seemed to show that in nine states holding presidential prima-ries, 231 delegates had been in-structed "or advised" for France, and 19 for Hoover. By a curious coincidence. Hoover's were from Maryland, Dr. France's home state. Among the states conceded to France were Illinois, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Ohio.

Where Figures Might Lie. Some of the figures were start-ting. Thus it appeared in Illinois the result had been: France, 345, 000; Hoover, 1750. In Pennsylvania: France, 352,092; Hoover, 20,662, In North Dakota: France, 35,906; Hoover, none.

"Just look at those figures." ex-ulted the candidate. "I tell you has no strength at all. If he didn't happen to be President you wouldn't even hear his name mentioned."

Still puzzling over these disconcerting statistics, the writer finally elicited the fact that in the primaries where France received a majority of the votes, President Hoover's name did not appear on the ballot. Also, as the doctor remarked defensively, "Anyone could write it in." Further inquiry disclosed that in virtually all instance the regular organization held state conventions at which delegates were

"Are you sure," I asked Dr. France, "that the delegates chosen at these state conventions will vote

"I am assuming that they will," he declared with dignity. "Not to vote for me after I received the largest number of votes would be a violation of the spirit, if not the letter, of the preferential primary laws. It would be a clear case of moral turpitude. Of course, there are reports of tampering, but I am not worried. You may take it from me that Hoover is beaten." Asked whether this belief was based on anything beyond the returns previously given, Dr. France answered: "The big men in New York don't want Hoover. They want a practical politician, a man who knows the game. They have had enough of supermen and prima donnas That type doesn't fit in the White House. You've got to have a man for President who can work with the organization, who can sit down with the boys and talk it

"That's one reason why I know Hoover won't be renominated, An-God, and I don't think He is ready to abandon this country to damna

Was Dr. France confident of his nomination? He drew himself to full height and smiled knowingly. "My idea in entering this fight." "My idea in entering this fight."
he replied, "was to save the party from those who were wrecking it.
There are a number of men scattered around this country who stand high in the party, who are known to the delegates to this convention, and who are known as fighters. One of them will be nominated. I didn't may that I would be nated. I didn't say that I would be the man, but it would not be Hoo ver. Rest assured of that."

"SIX CYLINDERS NO MORE-NO LESS." says America

Anything more and you sacrifice economy anything less and you sacrifice smoothness.

UYERS everywhere are comparing low-priced cars. Lifting hoods. Counting cylinders. And the result? An overwhelming verdict for the six, in preference to cars of fewer or more cylinders.

"SIX CYLINDERS. No more-No less!" And America backs up that conviction by purchasing more six-cylinder Chevrolets-far more-than any other type of low-priced car. Since January 1st, buyers have chosen more Chevrolet Sixes than the combined total of all fours and all eights priced under $1000.

Why such decisive preference? America knows its automobiles . . . and America has found, through experience, what engineers have known for a long time: that real economy and real smoothness can be combined in one-and only one-type of engine:

With more than six cylinders, you sacrifice Chevrolet's famous economy of gas, oil and upkeep.

With less than six cylinders, you sacrifice built-in smoothness.

But with a six-a Chevrolet Six-nothing is sacrificed. You get everything you want.

You get economy-the greatest all-round economy available in today's motor car market.

You get smoothness-the built-in smoothness that makes driving really restful and enjoyable.

You get power, too-60 horsepower. And speed-65 to 70 miles an hour, easily! And pick-up-a smooth, lightning-fast getaway from a standstill to 35 miles an hour in less than 7 seconds!

So, when buying a new low-priced car, settle the question of cylinders RIGHT, and you can't go WRONG. Take America's word for it: "SIX CYLINDERS. No more-No less!"

In addition to its "ideal-type" six-cylinder engine, Chevrolet provides Free Wheeling; Syncro-Mesh gear-shifting; big, spacious Fisher bodies; adequate weight; proven dependability; and eye-arresting style! Due to new reduced prices and liberal GMAC terms, you'll be money ahead buying a new Chevrolet instead of keeping the old car another season.

and today's bargains will become tomorrow's memories.

Let's peer into the future! Some of us will regret... while others will cherish... these glorious opportunities to buy and to profit.

If "LOOKING BACK TO 1932" stirs your emotions... if it awakens you to the marvelous buying opportunities that surround you... if it creates the impulse to capitalize present low prices... and if you act on that impulse, not only will YOU benefit, but things are surely going to happen!

ANALYZES MORTGAGES

Urges More Thoughtful Consideration by Both Borrower and Lender.

ANN ARBOR, Mich.-More before a mortgage is undertaken, including not only the borrower's ability to pay, but also the type of property. Its condition and the future of the district in which it is located, would prevent many losses of their property by borrowers and save lending institutions losses of income, which is a serious problem in both good and bad times. This warning is found in a study of 7000 urban mortgages, worth in the aggregate about $50,000,000, made by R. J. Burroughs of the University of Michigan.

Here are some facts which appeared from Burroughs analysis: If a mortgage is going to become timber will not last long nor give satisfactory results when used as fence posts if farmers continue the practice of using newly-made fence posts within a few days after they are cut, according to L. E. Sawyer forestry extension specialist of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois and of the Illinois State Natural History Survey. Many farmers do this, whereas fence posts should be cut several months in advance of setting, he recom-

"Durability of fence post material is influenced by several factors, among which are the kind of wood, the amount of heartwood and sapwood, the rate of growth, defects, seasons, the kind of soil in which the posts are set and whether or not the bark has been removed. The most durable woods include white oak, Osage orange or hedge, mulberry, red cedar, ca-talpa, black locust and sassafras.

"Ordinarily, if these trees are of only a moderate rate of growth, posts made from them will give satisfactory results, provided they are peeled as soon as they are made and allowed to season before being set. Naturally, posts set in a wet, heavy soil will decay faster than those set in a soil which has good drainage.

"Peeling off the bark is more important in the life of fence posts. than the seasoning, for the post material will soen take up mois-ture from the soil. If the bark has been removed, the post can dry out rapidly between wet periods, whereas if the bark is left on, as is ordinarily the case, moisture collects between the bark and the wood. This is an ideal place for wood-destroying fungi and for all kinds of insects and wood-borers that shorten the life of fence-

ONCE A GRAND DUKE

By ALEXANDER Former Grand Duke of Russia

Here is the story of the downfall of the Russian Empire, as seen from the inside by a member of the Russian royal family.

Alexander's memories of this turbulent period are vividly interesting. He tells the conspiracies and intrigues of the court . . . reveals the amazing incompetence and stupidity of his reactionary relatives . . . explains the weakness of the kindly but easily dominated Czar.

This best-selling story of a rich and eventful life will be published daily in the

No Action on N. P. Dividend. By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, June 15.—No action was taken by Northern Pacific Railway directors here on the dividend due at this time.

The board, at its meeting last March, took no action on the quarterly dividend due at that time, announcing that hereafter dividends would be declared on a semi-annual basis. The last payment on the stock was 75 cents for the final Chicago, Stock Fyshange today up.

quarter of 1931.
Omission of the dividend was full. Bond sales, 000 omitted: quarter of 1931.

Omission of the dividend was generally expected in Wall street in view of the road's low level of earnings. Another factor which militated against favorable action by the board was the recent cut in the dividend rate of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Rail-road from $5 to $3 semiannually, this reducing Northern Pacific's revenue from its half ownership of the Burlington.

It has been many years since Northern Pacific failed to pay a dividend. For about 10 years up to 1921 stockholders received $7 annually, but a drop in earning to time designated. Stock sales in full. Bond sales, 000 omitted:

KNOWLEDGE of BUSINESS

A business man's bank, Mississippi Valley Trust Company is so organized that no business problem can l and its official staff.

This set-up doesn't result from chance. It is the result of careful and deliberate planning. For we maintain that it is not enough for us to know banking principles alone. We also must be able to apply those principles to the business of any customer, regardless of his line of work. No matter what the occupation of a customer, we must be able to talk his language and to understand the problems which are peculiar to his business.

For an example of the business background of this institution, consider our Board of Directors. Here are 60 men who know St. Louis business. These men are also directors or officers of more than 150 corporations representing virtually every important line of business and industry in the Middle West.

As a result, when your banking problem goes before our board it is passed upon by men who appreciate its technical business angles as well as its financial angles. Whether you are a manufacturer, a wholesaler or a retailer-regardless of your line, you can bring your business here in complete confidence that both its financial and business sides will

▼ If your problem doesn't go before the board, there still is no chance that its technical side will be glossed over at this bank. For each director, at any time, is ready to contribute his specialized knowledge concerning his own particular line of business to any of our officers who need that knowledge in working out the solution of a banking problem.

March destroyed nearly all of the Elberta crop. A few white varie-ties withstood the cold weather and will grow a partial crop. Peach condition, based on bloom May 1, was 23 per cent. The June 1 conlition based on fruit is 13 per cent, or a probable crop of 220,000 compared with 1,500,000 bushels in 1931.

Pears-The 1932 crop forecast is resident of Edinburg, near here, 85,000 bushels, compared to 539,-000 harvested in 1931. The June 1 condition was 13 per cent on Keiffer pear trees all over the State and the potential commercial crop in Missouri is almost negligible this year. Missouri pear production this year will be mainly from non-comercial varieties.

Cherries-Harvesting is just be ginning on cherries. Cherry fruit ouds escaped with only partial damage from the freezing weather in March and the June 1 condition s 44 per cent. The estimated 1932 Missouri cherry crop will be 27,000 bushels, compared with 40,000 bushels harvested last year.

The youngest delegate to the convention Miss Nedra Wilhelm of West Virginia.

Mrs. Elinor M. Patterson, editor of the Washington Herald, is seen here preparing for the day's work with a cup of coffee.

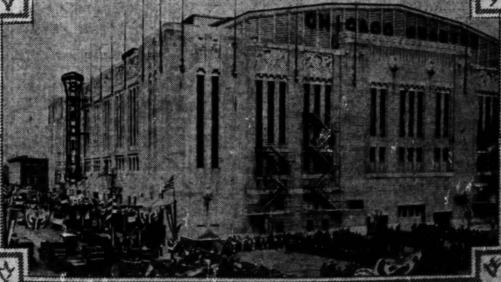

It must seem like old times to William N. Butler, who managed the campaign for Calvin Coolidge, back in 1924, when he was a Senator from Massachusetts, as he talked to James J. Burke, general counsel for the National Committee.

DEAR MRS. CARR: I am driving to Glacier and National Parks the first of July. I expect to be gone a month and would like to know what to wear. I have a riding outfit with stout shoes for hiking and horseback riding. Would it be necessary to take a lighter outfit? What is most suitable to war inside the parks? Would a wool or jersey suit be appropriate? We expect to take some boat trips in the daytime on the lakes.

GADABOUT.

You will wear sports clothes more than anything else, and I would advise you to take several weights, as it sometimes gets quite warm in the parks in the middle of the day. A knitted suit of wool or heavy silk, a crepe with extra jacket and one or two little cottons will see you through for this type of clothes, unless you are with a party and would like more changes. A leather jacket and a sweater that will make the topcoat or your wool suit warmer, unless you take two cloth coats, one of winter weight.

If you are stopping at the hotels, you will need at least two dinner dresses. Nothing better than lace and chiffon for these, with a little velvet jacket or wrap. For your boat trips you will wear your sports clothes.

By Mary Graham Bonne

Himalayan Black Bear
THE Japanese black bear told John and Pegsy that the Himalayan black bears lived in northern Japan, Southern China and in parts of the country near the Himalayan Mountains.
They followed directions and in a short time they saw a brown bear.

Had the bear been dark brown they might have thought they were seeing the Himalayan black bear, but this bear was so very light in color they wondered where the mis-take had been made.

"My name." the bear said, "is that of Hairy-Eared bear, and you find members of our family living around the central parts of Asia,

"I just thought in passing you might care to see a bear with a name which your friend, the Magic Maker, said would amuse you, and then you must look at my ears, which are so very hairy and which are always nice and warm.

"But wander on. You'll see your friend, the Himalayan black bear, very shortly."

The children thought that meeting this bear was a nice surprise. Then they saw the Himalayan black
